Die Sabbati 4. Junij. 1642.

IT is this day Ordered by the Lords and Commons in Parliament, That the Deputy-Lievtenants of the ſeveral and reſpective Counties within the Kingdom of England and Dominion of Wales, that are not Members of the Houſe of Commons, be hereby required and enjoyned to be preſent at the dayes, and places which are, or ſhall hereafter be appointed by the Lord Lievtenants, or their Deputies, for the Training, Muſtering, and Exerciſing of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Counties, according to the authority given unto them by an Ordinance of both Houſes of Parliament. And it is further Ordered, That all Deputy-Lievtenants, aſwell thoſe that are Members of the Houſe of Commons, as others, ſhal give ſuch diſpatch by preparing of Warrants, Commiſſions, or Letters, and ſubſcribing of the ſame as the ſervice ſhall require; And that ſuch as ſhall refuſe, or neglect ſo to doe, doe, that their Names be certified unto us by their fellow-Deputies, or any one of them that shall or doe performe the said Service.

And it is further declared, that it is the intention of both Houses, for the better incouragement of so good a Worke, so much conducing to the safety of his Majesties person and Kingdomes, that some of their Members at the times and places appointed, or to be appointed for the execution of the said Ordinance, shall be sent down to give their personall attendance upon the said Service. Ordered to be printed.

A True and perfect Relation of the particular passages at Yorke, on Friday the third of June. 1642.

HIs Majesty having summoned the Free-holders of the County of Yorke, to appeare before him on Heworth More, on the day above said, to satisfie them concerning his intentions, many of them did appeare together with a great multitude of Labourers and poore people, as also divers of the Inhabitants of the County of Lancaster, in all according to the estimate of my selfe, and divers others of judgment) about the number of seventy thousand or upwards, they came not in any warlike way, nor put themselves into any posture or order, neither was the third part of the Free-holders and Farmers of Yorkeshire there.

His Majesty had appointed 800 foot compleatly armed to guard his Person, and about 11. of the clocke came to the Field or Moore accompanied with a great number of Lords and Knights of great quality.

The

The Prince alſo led a troope of Horſe conſiſting of 150. Knights, Eſquires and Gentlemen, ſome whereof had foure, ſome three, and moſt two men a peece, which made another Troope.

As ſoon as his Majeſty came neer the Moore, the people did entertain him with a very lond ſhout, and being come into the Moore, and as much ſilence made as could be, his Majeſty made a Speech, therein declaring his conſtancy in the Proteſtant Religion, and his great affection to that County, intimating that he reſolved to recide amongſt them in thoſe parts to keepe the Country in peace. His Speech being ended, he rode round the Moore, and about the number of 65000. followed him, crying all the way (God bleſſe the King) but the reſt which were about 5000 all Freeholders ſeparated themſelves to Petition to his Majeſty, and had their Petition ready to preſent to him, the effect of it, was to beſeech his Majeſty to come to the Parliament, &c. but their Petition was intercepted by the Lord Savill, who carried himſelfe very ſtrangely in that particular, and in a forcible manner, ſuffered them not to deliver the ſame; His Majeſty having rode round the field, all the people brought him off the Moore with a great ſhoute, and there many left him, but 20000 accompanied him to the Court gate, and ſaw him ſafe at Court, and with a great ſhoute left him.

A great multitude of the people never came at the Field, but ſtaid in the City, and others came but into the Moore, when the reſt came out. And having thus made their appearance about eight of the clocke at night all were returned out of the Field.
